

ART/WORKS

Drawing the Line from Art to Business

Is your nickname Picasso? Are you a better photographer than Ansel Adams? Does your sculpture rival Michelangelo's David? Or, do you just have something important to say with your art?

Show the city how creative you and your company are and join in the Arts & Business Council and Nashville Area Chamber of Commerce West Area Business Council's ArtWorks, where companies are invited to showcase the art created by their team/employees!

What: ArtWorks
(Showcase and Reception)
Presented by Arts & Business Council of Greater Nashville and the Nashville Area Chamber of Commerce West Area Business Council

When: Thursday, October 16, 2008
5:30–7:30 p.m.

Where: The Mall at Green Hills
2126 Abbott Martin Road
Macy's Courtyard (between Davis-Kidd Booksellers and Panera Bread)

Who: You!

How: Sign up with your company to display your artwork.

Theme: Visual Art: paintings, drawings, sculpture, printmaking, photography, crafts, computer art, architectural design — anything that can be visually displayed within the space allotted.

Space: Each participating company is invited to showcase up to 10 art pieces entirely composed by their team/employees. The art can be an individual work that is already complete, individual work done just for ArtWorks, or a group collaboration by company members.

Each participating company will decide how their artists will be selected.

AWARDS

Company Awards:

- People's Choice: The "I just like that company's art" award. Selected by attendees.
- Critics' Pick: The "Your company as a whole is talented" award. Selected by a host of local arts experts.
- Creativity to the Extreme: The "Whoa! That company has stretched all creativity boundaries!" award. Those local arts experts vote again!

Individual Awards:

- People's Choice: The "I just like that person's art" award. Selected by attendees.
- Critics' Pick: The "Your art is the best" award. Selected by local arts experts.
